Crop Prospects in California

The Marysville Appeal frankly admits that the crop prospects in California are not flattering From the issue of that paper of April 25th we take the following

We wish we could send forth cheering intelligence from this section that the crop prospects were never better, and that the chances of an abundant harvest were reduced to a certainty But unfortunately we cannot It has been the misfortune of our farmers that nearly every rain this winter has been followed by a drying north wind that soon evaporated the moisture and to a greater or less extent neutralized the good effects of the rain For several days past a strong hot parching wind has been blowing from the north and the injury it has entailed upon the crops must be very great Farmers coming to town are despondent, and all agree upon the necessity of early and copious rains The bad effects of the north wind are not however, general, but appear to affect the crops in streaks and localities as while some fields look badly others closely adjacent have a thrifty and hardy appearance The crops will not be a failure by any means but the drawbacks we have mentioned will reduce the aggregate yield far below what was recently anticipated

Boston papers usually describe funerals in this way "The procession was very fine and nearly two miles in length, as was also the prayer of Dr. Perry, the Chaplain

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

EASTERN DATES TO MAY 2.

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

No Change in the Situation.

PARIS, May 1—The Commune has revoked the order for the arrest of General Cluseret

A series of barricades are being built to completely encircle the city

Dombrowski is now in command on the bank of the Seine outside of the walls

Free Masons take turns with the Nationals in guarding the banners of the Order on the ramparts, and do duty bravely under a terrible fire

VERSAILLES, May 1—Negotiations for the surrender of Fort Issy failed, and the bombardment has recommenced It is now very violent

In the Assembly to day Picard stated that the municipal elections throughout France passed off quietly yesterday, except at Lyons

The English Parliament

LONDON, May 1—In the House of Commons, the debate on the budget was resumed W H Smith, member for Westminster, moved the following

Resolved, That in the opinion of this House it is inexpedient to increase the rate of taxation on incomes

He argued to show that the additional burden would fall exclusively on small incomes

The San Juan Question.

LONDON May 1—Granville in the House of Lords to night, declined to answer questions respecting negotiations for the settlement of the San Juan Island boundary question with the United States He stated that the Government was under obligations of secrecy until a treaty and ratifications were exchanged

LONDON, May 1—A vote was taken which resulted in the defeat of a resolution against the increase of income tax

In the House of Commons Harcourt and Henley made bitter attacks on the budget Lowe defended it, and said Government had presented the best available substitute for impost rejected by the House

WASHINGTON CITY

Legal Tender Cases

WASHINGTON, May 1—Justice Clifford read the brief and papers in the legal tender cases—Knox vs Lee, and Parker vs Davis & Ballous In these two cases there were two questions heretofore directed to be argued 1st Is the act of Congress, known as the Legal Tender Act, constitutional as to contracts made before its passage? 2d Is it valid as applicable to transactions since its passage? The questions have been considered by the court and both decided in the affirmative The decree of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, in the case of Parker vs Davis, is therefore affirmed, and the judgment of the Circuit Court of the United States of the Western District of Texas is also affirmed

In the cases of Dunning against Spars and others, two cases from the Supreme Court of Michigan, contracts were for the delivery of a specified weight of gold, removable as coined money The court below held that they were discharged by the payment of treasury notes, equivalent in market value of coined money of stipulated weight of pure gold This court reversed that judgment, holding that it should have been entered for coined dollars and parts of dollars

WASHINGTON, May 1—There was a large number of members of the bar present at the Supreme Court chamber to day, as it was known that the Court would announce many opinions prepared during the week's recess, previous to adjourning until the 16th of October next All the Judges were on the bench with the exception of Justice Nelson The Chief Justice retired at about 2 o'clock Notes of opinions were announced at 3 o'clock The Chief Justice, with Associate Justices Nelson, Clifford and Field, dissented from the majority of the Court upon both propositions and results, holding that the act of Congress so far as applicable to contracts made before the passage repugnant to the Constitution and void, and also that it is repugnant to the Constitution and void so far as applicable to contracts made since its passage

Dispatch from North Carolina

RALEIGH, N C, May 1—W O Harrison, a Holden Republican, was elected Mayor of this city to day by the Democrats, the strength of the Republican party, including a majority of the negroes, supporting C L Harris, also a Holden Republican The Mayor elect is a brother of Mrs Governor Holden

Ex Governor Manley died to day, aged 7.. years

CALIFORNIA.

Bill Twead's Gang Coming

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2—With the train which left Ogden last night is the Americus Club of New York, in Wagner's palace car, consisting of the following gentlemen: William M Twead, Owen Brennan, President Wm H Maloney, Secretary George H Mitchell, Treasurer Edward Kearney, Francis McCabe, John R Platt, Judge James Butler, Thomas Maloney, Edward L Donnelly, Dr Jarvis M Andrew, Thomas Dunahoo, Peter Trainor

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Dispatch from Kalama

KALAMA, May 2—The ship P... and bark ... arrived last night from San Francisco, with cars and railroad iron for the Northern Pacific Railroad Two pile drivers are at work on the grade and business is rushing along with all possible speed

General Spinner, United States Treasurer, was to leave Washington about the end of last month for Europe where he goes in connection with the pending loan negotiations He will visit nearly all the principal cities in Europe in the transaction of this business and will be absent from his present office for probably two or three months Judge Richardson Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, will also visit Europe as soon as the new bonds are ready During General Spinner's absence the duties of the Treasurer will be performed by Leroy M Tuttle, Assistant Treasurer

Charles W Woolley (author of what are known as the "Buckeye Letters" exposing certain intrigues in the last Democratic National Convention) has been elected to the Common Council of Cincinnati and is stated that it is proposed by the Pendleton Democrats to make him President of the body as evidence of the feeling against Thomas A Hendricks

Hong Kong affords a singular instance of the curiosities of taxation One hundred and fifty thousand dollars a year is derived from a tax of 7 per cent on moneys won at the licensed gambling tables They have a daily average there of 14 631 players, or one to every eight of the entire population

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

The Loyalists gaining Ground

VERSAILLES, May 2—Fort Issy is completely surrounded by victors

PARIS May 2—The Reveil says the Versaillists attacked Fort Issy but were repulsed last night The bombardment of Vanvres and Montrogue continues to day An engagement is expected before evening The Versaillists are gaining ground daily The reoccupation of Issy is contradicted The fort is deserted Fifteen thousand Nationals carried the barricade at Lower Issy

It is rumored that Dombrowski and staff are made prisoners at Asnieres

VERSAILLES, May 2—Last night chasseurs captured Clamart railway station at the point of the bayonet Three insurgents were killed Simultaneously two regiments attacked Chateau Issy, the defense of which the insurgents temporarily abandoned

LONDON, May 2—The Daily News says 25 000 troops have been sent against the insurgents, making sorties by Choisy A great battle is expected to morrow A new army is forming at Auxerre

PARIS May 2—The Commune decrees a committee of public safety Cluseret's arrest was ordered because of negligence, whereby Fort Issy was compromised

Attitude of Germany

NEW YORK, May 2—A special correspondent telegraphs the following

BERLIN—Sunday—An Imperial council was held to day to consider the situation of Paris Bismarck was present It was agreed to notify the Versailles government that a further limited period would be allowed for the restoration of authority, enforcement of order and fulfillment of the treaty stipulation, after which, Germany will take independent action to establish law and order The dispatch will emphasize the wish of Germany not to interfere in the internal political affairs of France, but will add that such interminable civil war, originating in revolution and characterized by disgraceful excesses cannot longer be tolerated, for the moral and material interests of Germany, as well as of all Europe are suffering

Private reliable information leads to the belief that it is the intention of the Germans to restore the Regency as the next legitimate—— [Here the line broke]

CURRENT NOTES

Schamyl the great Caucasian chief is dead For twenty years he has been the prisoner and protege of Russia, and his country has passed into the permanent possession of the Czars.

According to the Stanislaus (Cal) News, the drouth in the heretofore extensive stock ranges to the south of Modesto, is so great that many large herders are starting their cattle to the mountains with the view of crossing over into the State of Nevada as soon as the snow will permit.

The Springfield (Ill) Journal says that the contractor for building the architectural portion of the Lincoln Monument in Oak Ridge Cemetery, in that city, is pushing forward the work as rapidly as possible, and expects to complete it by the first of July next The monument when completed, will be a most imposing and beautiful structure

The Legislature of Illinois has adjourned its session to November without passing the general appropriation bill for ordinary and contingent expenses of the government. The appropriation at the preceding session covers expenses up to the first of July this year, but from that date to November, the State government will have to be run on credit and scrip

The Columbus (S C) Union says there have recently been numerous instances in the northern part of the State where men who have voted the Republican ticket have been compelled to renounce their connection with the party and to publish cards declaring that they are in favor of a white man's government, under penalty of whipping and even death This card publishing business is done for the purpose of making the North believe that men thus voluntarily renounce their opinions

A Tribune Washington special (April 24th) telegraphs the following Intelligence is just received from South Carolina, that on Sunday night a party of disguised men rode to the house of Robert Milton, an orderly Union man of Southern birth living on a little farm near Old Shore Chesterfield county, and called for him to come out When he appeared at the door accompanied by his wife and daughter all three were immediately shot The wife was instantly killed Milton fatally, and his daughter dangerously wounded Milton was collector of delinquent taxes

The Republican papers of Texas are moving for a division of that State The Houston Telegraph presents this plan First, for three States One of these is to be west of the Colorado, one between the Colorado and Trinity, and one east of the Trinity Besides these three States, it proposes to cut off northwestern Texas by a line running from the mouth of the Big Wichita to the mouth of the Pecos, on the Rio Grande This to be erected into two Territories, each as large as the State of Illinois, and each in all probability soon to have population enough for admission as a State This plan would convert the present Texas into five States with ten Senators and double the representative power now wielded in the House of Representatives

General Grant in Indiana—Speech of Senator Morton

INDIANAPOLIS April 23d

The Academy of Music was crowded last night at the reception of President Grant, and a large number of persons were unable to gain admittance The President was welcomed to the city and introduced by Governor Baker in a brief but felicitous speech to which the President responded as follows

Ladies and gentlemen, I thank you heartily for this cordial greeting for I assure you it is unexpected When I left Washington it was with the view of going to St. Louis without stopping by the way, but on meeting your distinguished Senator, Morton, at Pittsburg he requested me to remain here during the day, and I consented to do so expecting to see you people of Indianapolis turn out to greet your Senator, I not expecting a greeting to me, and I leave him to thank you in more appropriate terms than I could do, if I were to try

Morton then proceeded to refer in detail to some leading features of President Grant's Administration, noticing in particular the steady and great reduction of the public debt, not by increasing taxation, but by a faithful, honest collection of the revenues and by retrenchment and economy in every department of the Government He referred to the successful Indian policy of the Administration, through which, he said, "we are now more nearly at peace with the Indians than at any previous time in the history of the Government" In regard to the future policy of the Republican party, he said the party could not afford to run off upon any one issue to the abandonment of others It was national, and its policy must embrace the good of the whole country It could not afford to make a distinct issue of the tariff civil service, or any other individual issue Referring to the Ku Klux bill recently passed by Congress, he declared his belief that it is not only constitutional, but necessary, and he proceeded to give a history of the Ku Klux organization and its purposes He then gave, at considerable length, his views of the policy and intention of the Democracy in the next campaign, declaring his belief that they intended to oppose the reconstruction acts, declare illegal the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Constitutional Amendm... ...f the party c... ...they succeed ... ...rn State ... tainin... ...they would ... ...for sol... diers in ... paid, and ref... ...t of the public ... for th... ...the Fifteenth ... the colored m... ...lared that if the ... ...were the South... with the ...

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 3, 1871.

Taking an Appeal.

If we may credit what such journals as the Albany Democrat tell us, the Democratic party propose to appeal in the next Presidential contest from the verdict of the war, and fight on that issue. It is noticeable that the Democratic press is nearly a unit on this doctrine, and that the journals of that party in the South are more violent and outspoken than any others. For example, the Memphis Appeal is delighted with Senator Blair's letter in favor of trampling down the constitutional amendments, whereby the fruits of the great struggle against secession were fully secured. "The Democratic party in the next contest for the Presidency," says that exponent of Democratic principles, "must not lower its flag by an acknowledgment of either the wisdom or validity of an admitted usurpation of a most mischievous and revolutionary character—one that strikes a death blow to the very vitals of the Federal system, and clears the way of all obstacles to a speedy and absolute centralized despotism. How can the Democratic party go before the country, and after holding up the unconstitutional outrages of radicalism, exposing their usurpations and the infamies of the reconstruction acts, coolly wind up their assaults by gently bending their heads and declaring, 'We accept the situation;' the measures upon which we have warred and about which we have made such a hullabaloo, are 'accomplished facts.'"

Let us have this fight, then. Let the appeal be taken from the verdict of the war. The people will know how to meet it. Senator Morton in a speech a few days ago at Indianapolis stated the obvious purposes of that party, and he did not state them too strongly. He declared that Democrats if they get power will seek to impose upon the Union people the burden of paying the debts of treason and pensioning traitors. They will destroy the Fifteenth Amendment and treat the Thirteenth and Fourteenth as nullities, and they will repudiate the national debt unless the nation consents to pay the damages claimed by the South, and these will give us an aggregate of not less than two thousand millions to be added to the existing debt. Nobody who watches the course of that party can doubt this. But by giving timely warning of this danger the country will avoid it.

The Tammany Ring.

Horace S. Winans, a Republican member of the New York Legislature from Chataqua county was bought the other day by Tweed to give a constitutional majority of Democrats in that body. The New York Commercial Advertiser prints the following dispatch relative to the transaction:

[illegible], April 15.—Neill Bryant, Sheriff's [illegible]:—Your brother-in-law, Winans, was [illegible] for $65,000. You stand in one-half.
EUGENE DURNIN.

It is a consolation to know that there was only one man in that body among those professed Republicans who was so desperate as to take Tammany's bribes. The Legislature was at a dead lock for a week and the Democratic managers found a way out by buying Winans at the above named magnificent price. That sum of money, says the Washington Chronicle, would have bought a regiment of New York Democrats. There is a universal expression of execration against Winans from the Republican press. The cause not unfrequently suffers from individual traitors. This affair has produced tremendous excitement at the East, and is opening the eyes of honest men of both parties to the necessity of making common cause against the shameless corruptionists of the New York Ring. Bill Tweed, the Tammany Boss, is on his way from New York to San Francisco. A Democratic Club in the latter city has made full preparations to receive and do honor to the great thief and corruptionist.

"The peculiarity about the character of Mr. Montague Tigg," said that gentleman's particular friend, Chevy Slyme, Esq., "is not his comprehensive grasp of wonderful transactions, but the really remarkable manner in which he is always waiting round the corner." Which reminds us very much of the way in which a Portland School Director whose "financial transactions" two or three years ago, which have been exposed to public scrutiny, managed. When he got out of office he "waited with great persistence till he got in again." We suppose no one doubts why he wanted to be re-elected to the position.

After all, in these days of immense Democratic raids on the school funds, we don't know that it is worth while to complain about the comparatively small loss which the taxpayers of Portland have suffered through Messrs. Dennison and McCoy. The actual loss probably does not exceed $2,000, which is moderate indeed, when compared with some of the school fund jobs of the past year. It would, perhaps, be unreasonable to censure the gentlemen above mentioned. It might be proper to tender them a vote of thanks for not taking much more of the public money.

We are told that yesterday (Tuesday) a party started from here to explore the Nehalem valley and see for themselves its situation and general advantages for settlement. The party is made up of Scandinavians who, if they are pleased with the prospect, will report favorably to friends in their native country who will come out at once. A considerable settlement has already been made in Nehalem valley, and no doubt many people will be added to it during the present year.

It is reported that the bulk of the $75,000 which the State is swindled out of in the canal and locks job at Wallamet Falls is pledged as a Democratic corruption fund for the next election. This would explain why the Legislature gave a subsidy of $200,000 to the company controlled by Senator Kelly, John F. Miller and other Democratic politicians, instead of $125,000 to a perfectly responsible company who offered to give ample security for the construction of the works.

In his recent political speech in Alabama Jeff. Davis, according to the Montgomery Advertiser, a Democratic paper, expressed a hope that he "might yet witness the restoration of the principles of State sovereignty, apparently lost by the defeat and surrender of the Southern Confederacy." Nobody doubts what party he looks to for this restoration of secession principles.

It is generally understood in Washington that Sumner is preparing to attack any adjustment that may be reached by the Joint High Commission.

The Swindling Litigant Law.

The Herald calls the litigant law "one of the most useful and necessary acts of legislation for the protection of the rights of individuals, as every lawyer will assert, that was ever passed by any Legislature." No lawyer will assert or ever has asserted anything of the kind,—except that astounding prodigy of legal learning and statesmanship known as "Grasshopper Jim." What was the act passed for? Notoriously for the benefit of Democratic newspapers, and for nothing else. The idea of affording "protection to litigants" never for a moment entered the minds of its authors. Who caused the law to be passed? The proprietors of the Herald, in order to get the large fees it allows for so-called litigant printing. Is any one so absolute a fool as to suppose that their anxiety to secure the passage of the bill arose from any other motive than unscrupulous, not to say dishonest, cupidity? Who, except the proprietors of Democratic newspapers, demanded the law, or thought of proposing it to the Legislature? Not one person of either party in the State. How sillily false, then, it is to pretend that the measure was enacted with any other view than to support miserable starveling Democratic newspapers, which have not ability to subsist except by compelling people who despise them to advertise in their columns at exorbitant, swindling rates. If the Herald will tell the truth about this matter, it will win far more respect than it gains by attempting to justify a swindling enactment on grounds which everybody, itself included, knows to be pitifully false.

There is reason to believe that Mr. A. P. Dennison, during his former term as School Director, had the use of large sums of the school money of this District for his own purposes. At all events, it is known that he approached the Clerk on the subject and insisted on having the money. This explains his anxiety to be re-elected, and the job he put up, in connection with R. J. Ladd, to control the school meeting on the first Monday in April. His interest in the schools evidently arises from his desire to make what he can by manipulating the money. It is not agreeable to say these things, but the developments recently made more than justify them.

Senator Sumner recently made a powerful speech against the Ku Klux. But somehow we haven't yet received a copy of this speech under Kelly's frank.

Over $6,000,000 more knocked off the national debt during the month of April. That's what honest and efficient financial management does.

OREGON.

It is said that Oakland is now the most prosperous town in Southern Oregon.

Maj. Cornoyer, the newly appointed Indian Agent at Umatilla Reservation, has entered on the discharge of his duties.

Superintendent Meacham has sent messengers to collect strolling Indians throughout the State and place them on reservations.

The Salem water works company have begun building their reservoir. The company expect to be able to supply water by the middle of July.

Forty or fifty passengers, most of whom were new comers, went up the Wallamet river on the steamboat Reliance on Monday, to look for homes.

The Roseburg Ensign thinks that the Umpqua valley this spring will derive $150,000 from the sale of its wool and not less than $29,000 more from the sale of mutton sheep.

The Mattock is the title of a small sheet issued at Brownsville, Linn county, the first number of which is before us. It is to appear "now and then;" that is, we suppose, occasionally or semi-occasionally.

From the Roseburg Plaindealer: On last Saturday there was a brisk competition among the wool buyers at this place, which caused wool to advance much beyond the former price. Mr. Sol. Abraham, from Oakland, publicly declared that he would give more than any firm in Douglas county, and the merchants of this place with equal liberality, asserted the same, and before night several lots were bargained at 27½ cents per pound.

The following are the names of the municipal officers elected at Oregon City on Monday: Mayor, Thos. Charman; Recorder, M. C. Athey; Assessor and Collector, S. D. Pope; Treasurer, Chas. Pope; School Superintendent, W. C. Johnson; Attorney, C. E. Warren; Marshal, J. W. Ryan; Councilmen, Chas. Logus, J. M. Moore, W. W. Buck, J. D. Miller, J. M. Bacon, Owen Wade and J. G. Porter. All are Republicans.

From the Walla Walla Union: The spring clip of wool in Umatilla county is in market. A. Frank has just returned from a trip through that county, where he succeeded in purchasing upwards of 70,000 pounds of the clip. Mr. Frank informs us that there is still some 20,000 pounds of good wool and 15,000 pounds of an inferior grade in that county, awaiting the arrival of a purchaser. He estimates the number of sheep in Umatilla county at from thirty to forty thousand, mostly of fine breeds and all looking well. There is about the same number in Walla Walla county.

THE TERRITORIES.

A Walla Walla paper estimates that that valley will produce this year three times as much grain as it ever yielded before in a single season.

A large saw mill, engine of thirty horse power, to be set up about 25 miles from Walla Walla, in the Blue mountains, is on the way from Chicago.

A few days ago, Judge Kennedy, at Walla Walla, made some remarks in which he charged some member of the Bar with embezzlement. It created quite a stir among the lawyers. No one was named by the Judge, and the lawyers were much excited about the matter. Indications seemed to point to one Mullan as the man.

Ross' Walla Walla Real Estate Record gives this: Gen. Tilton, of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, has completed the survey of the road between Walla Walla and Wallula, and found an admirable, and a great portion of the way, an almost natural line, with no engineering difficulties or expensive grades to work. The line from Walla Walla to a point two miles west of the crossing of the Touchet river—a distance of seventeen miles—is nearly a straight one, with grades descending about 30 feet per mile, average; thence following down the Walla Walla river, and crossing it twice, the work becomes heavier, with some rock cutting, but with no summits to cross, and an excellent landing at or above Wallula. The total fall from Walla Walla to the Columbia river is only about 550 feet.

PERSONAL.

Judge Lorenzo D. Sawyer, U. S. Circuit Judge, is en route per steamer J. L. Stephens, for this city, to sit during the term of the U. S. Circuit Court for May.

Mr. Thos. Cross of Salem, is also a passenger by the steamer. He has been for some months at Chicago, engaged in supplying this coast with large contracts for hams and bacon.

It is stated that Senator Corbett and wife will probably not return to Oregon this summer, but that they will cross the Atlantic and make a tour of European countries. If they do so they may not return home till after the next session of Congress.

Mr. C. C. Way from Elkington, Iowa, has gone into the real estate business with Messrs. Stitzel & Upton. He has recently arrived in Oregon and reports that many people are coming from his section. He will remain permanently in this State and devote himself to the real estate and immigration business, in which he has had an experience of fourteen years.

The Power to Suppress Ku Klux Outrages.

Since Senator Sumner has of late been accepted as so high an authority among Democrats, we give them the following from his speech of April 13th on the power of Congress to suppress Ku Klux outrages. This, we may remark, is one of his speeches which Kelly hasn't franked to Oregon:

The questions presented in this debate have been of fact and of constitutional law. It is insisted on one side that a condition of things exists in certain States affecting life, liberty, property and the enjoyment of equal rights, which can be corrected only by the national arm. On the other side this statement is controverted, and it is argued also that such intervention is inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States. On both questions, whether of fact or law, I cannot hesitate. To my mind, outrages are proved, fearful in character; nor can I doubt the power under the Constitution to apply the remedy.

So long as slavery endured a State was allowed to play the turtle, and, sheltered within its shell, to escape the application of those master principles which are truly national. The Declaration of Independence, with its immortal truths, was in abeyance; the Constitution itself was interpreted always in support of slavery. I never doubted that this interpretation was wrong, not even in the days of slavery; but it is doubly, triply wrong, now that the Declaration of Independence is at last regarded, and that the Constitution not only makes slavery impossible, but assures the citizen in the enjoyment of equal rights. I do not quote these texts, whether of the Declaration or the Constitution. You know them by heart. But they are not vain words. Vital in themselves, they are armed with all needful powers to carry them into execution. As in other days slavery gave its character to the Constitution, filling it with its own denial of equal rights, and compelling the National Government to be its instrument, so now do I insist that liberty must give its character to the Constitution, filling it with life-giving presence and compelling the National Government to be its instrument. Once the nation served slavery, and in this service ministered to state rights; now it must serve liberty with kindred devotion, even to the denial of state rights. All this I insist is plain according to rules of interpretation, simple and commanding.

What makes a nation? Not armies, not fleets, not fortifications, not commerce reaching every shore abroad, not industry filling every vein at home, nor population thronging the highways; none of these make our Nation. The national life of this Republic is found in the principle of unity and in the equal rights of all our people; all of which being national in character are necessarily placed under the great safeguard of the Nation. Let the national unity be assailed, and the nation will spring to its defense. Let the humblest citizen in the remotest village be assailed in the enjoyment of equal rights, and the Nation must do for that humblest citizen what it would do for itself. And this is only according to the original promises of the Declaration of Independence, and the more recent promises of the constitutional amendments, the two concurring in the same national principles.

Do you question the binding character of the great Declaration? Then do I invoke the Constitutional Amendments. But you cannot turn from either, and establishes beyond question the boundaries of national power, making it co-extensive with the national unity and the equal rights of all originally declared and subsequently assured. Whatever is announced in the Declaration is essentially national, and so also is all that is assured. The principles of the Declaration, re-enforced by the Constitutional Amendments, cannot be allowed to suffer. Being common to all, they must be under the safeguard of all; nor can any State set up its local system against the universal law. Equality implies universality; and what is universal must be national. If each State is left to determine the protection of equal rights, then will protection vary according to the State, and equal rights will prevail only according to the accident of local law. There will be as many equalities as States. Therefore, in obedience to reason, as well as solemn mandate, is this power in the Nation.

Nor am I deterred from this conclusion by any cry of centralism, or it may be of imperialism. These are terms borrowed from France, where this abuse has become a tyranny, subjecting the most distant communities, even in the details of administration, to central control. Mark, if you please, the distinction. But no such tyranny is proposed among us; nor any interferance of any kind with matters local in character. The nation will not enter the State, except for the safeguard of rights national in character, and then only as the sunshine, with beneficent power, and, like the sunshine, for the equal good of all. As well assail the sun because it is central, because it is imperial. Here is a just centralism; here is a generous imperialism. Shunning with patriotic care that injurious centralism and that fatal imperialism, which have been the Nemesis of France, I hail that other centralism which supplies an equal protection to every citizen, and that other imperialism which makes Equal Rights the supreme law, to be maintained by the national arms in all parts of the land. Centralism! Imperialism! Give me the centralism of liberty. Give me the imperialism of equal rights. And may this National Capitol, where we are now assembled, be the emblem of our nation. Planted on a hill-top, with portals opening North and South, East and West, with spacious chambers and with arching dome, crowned by the image of Liberty; such is our imperial Republic; but in nothing is it so truly imperial as in that beneficent sovereignty which rises like a dome crowned by the image of Liberty.

A Letter from General Jackson.

The following private letter from General Jackson, while he was president, to Rev. Andrew J. Crawford, was furnished to a paper published in Lynn, Mass., by a gentleman of that city, who says it has not before been printed:

WASHINGTON, May 1, 1833.

MY DEAR SIR: I have just received your letter of the 6th ultimo, and have only time in reply to say that Gen. Coffee well understood Mr. Shackleford, and urged your nomination in his stead. I had nominated you, but on the serious importunity of Col. King, your Senator, with Gen. Coffee, the change was adopted, and you nominated for the office you now fill. Before the receipt of yours, Gen. Coffee had written me, and requested that I would appoint you to the office vacated by Mr. Shackleford. If we had a Senate in whose principles we could rely, this would have been done, but I did not believe it would be prudent to bring your name before the Senate again, and am happy you are content where you are.

The Senate cannot remove you, and I am sure your faithfulness and honesty will never permit you to do an act that will give good cause for removal, and if Moore and Poindexter discovered that you were related to me, that would be sufficient cause for them to reject you. Therefore it is that I let well enough alone, although I know it would be a convenience to you to be located where you are; still a rejection by the Senate might prove a greater inconvenience, and for the reasons assigned it was not done.

I have had a laborious task here, but nullification is dead, and its actors and courtiers will only be remembered by the people, to be execrated for their wicked designs to sever and destroy the only good government on the globe, and that happiness and prosperity we enjoy over every other portion of the world.

Haman's gallows ought to be the fate of all such ambitious men who would involve their country in civil wars, and all the evils in its train, that they might reign and ride on its whirlwinds and direct the storm.

The free people of these United States have spoken and consigned these wicked demagogues to their proper doom. Take care of your nullifiers, you have them among you; let them meet with the indignant frowns of every man who loves his country.

The tariff, it is now well known, was a mere pretext; its burden was on your coarse woolens. By the law of July, 1832, coarse woolen was reduced to five per cent. for the benefit of the South.

Mr. Clay's bill takes it up and classes it with woolens at fifty per cent.; reduces it gradually down to twenty per cent., and there it is to remain; and Mr. Calhoun and all the nullifiers agree to the principle.

The cash duties and home valuation will be equal to fifteen per cent. more, and after the year 1842 you pay on coarse woolens thirty-five per cent. If this is not protection I cannot understand. Therefore the tariff was only the pretext, and disunion and a Southern Confederacy the real object. The next pretext will be the negro or slavery question.

My health is not good, but is improving a little; present me kindly to your lady and family, and believe me to be your friend. I will always be happy to hear from you.

ANDREW JACKSON.

The San Francisco Alta speaks of a seventeen pound oyster shell now in the counting-room of that paper, and thinks that, as nature never produced anything by way of experiment, there is room for the inference that the contemporaneous lover of the bivalve must have been equally well developed. One of the mysteries of the thing is, that the monster was found on the top of Mount Diablo—2,000 feet above the level of the sea.

PORTLAND HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

DISTRIBUTION OF LANDS BY SALE AND DRAWING OF LOTS.

The stockholders of the Portland Homestead Association met last evening at the Police Court room, and, as per previous agreement, proceeded to the distribution of their lands, situated on the Terwilliger claim, adjoining Caruther's Addition to Portland. The tract is laid out in blocks subdivided into lots. Each lot was put up and submitted to purchase by the highest bidder, the bid being a premium for the choice. The original cost of a share or lot was $247, and the sums appearing below are to be paid in addition as premiums:

The rest of the lots, nine in number, were disposed of by lot, there being no bidders. The sum of all the premiums bid was $6,126, making the dividend to 88 shareholders, $69 61. The bidding, as will be seen, for the choice selections, was very spirited. As soon as the deeds can be made out, the Secretary is to notify shareholders and then a final adjustment of the affairs of the association will be made.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE LAST GAME OF THE BILLIARD TOURNAMENT.—The fourth and last game between Messrs. Rudolphe and Dion was played last evening at the Theater. It was the American 4-ball carom game, 1,000 points up. It was understood that the winner would take a purse of $500, made up by outside parties. There was a much larger audience present than on either of the preceding nights. Mr. Rudolphe began the play, and scored in eight innings as follows: 21, 72, 0, 27, 9, 6, 45, 0; total, 180. Mr. Dion scored in eight innings, 33, 0, 315, 39, 246, 24, 315, 30; total, 1,002—winning the game by 822 points. Mr. Dion is therefore winner of every game played by the two in this city. Mr. Rudolphe leaves this morning, south, intending to go overland to California. Mr. Dion will return to San Francisco by the next steamer. Meantime he will take a trip to the Dalles to see the Columbia river scenery.

MISS MINNIE PIXLEY'S BENEFIT.—The friends of this talented young lady will bear in mind that her benefit will take place this evening at Oro Fino Theater. We believe Miss Minnie has never before appeared in the character of a beneficiary, but as she is a favorite, she will no doubt be as popular in this character as in others which she has personated.

VIEUXTEMPS' CONCERT AND MATINEE.—The programme for the instrumental and vocal concert by the teachers and pupils of the Oregon Musical Institute, May 6th, has been published. We learn thereby that there is to be a matinee at two o'clock P. M., and a concert in the evening at eight o'clock. In each there are to be various instrumental and vocal exercises by the pupils and others. The affair will no doubt be interesting to the patrons and friends of the school.

In the Mission Garden—(1865)

BY BRET HARTE

FATHER FELIPE.

I speak not the English well but Pachita
She speak [illegible] is it not so, my Pancha?
Eh [illegible] little rogue Come, salute me to the stranger
Americano

S[illegible] in my country we say "Where the heart is
There live the speech Ah you not understand? So
Pardon an old man—what you call [illegible] fogy—
Padre Felipe

Old Senor old just so old the M[illegible]
You see that pear tree How old you think Senor
Fifteen years Twenty? Ah Senor just Fifty
Gone since I plant him

You like the wine? It is some at the Mission
Made from the grape of the year Eighteen Hundred
All the same time when the earthquake he come to San Juan Bautista.

But Pancha is twelve and she is the rose-tree
And I am the olive and this is the garden
And Pancha we say; but her name is Francesca
Same like her mother

Eh you knew her No? Ah it is a story—
But I speak not like Pachita the English
So? If I try you will sit here beside me
And shall not laugh, eh

When the American come to the Mission
Many arrive to the house of Francisca
One—he was fine man—he buy the cattle
Of Jose Castro

So he came much and Francisca she saw him
And it was Love—and a very dry season—
And the pears bake on the tree—and the rain come
But not Francisca

Not for one year and one night I have walked much
Under the olive tree when comes Francisca—
Comes to me here, with her child this Francisca—
Under the olive tree

Sir it was sad—but I speak not the English—
So? She stay here, and she wait for her husband
He come no more and she sleep on the hill side
There stands Pachita

Ah! there's the Angelus Will you enter?
Or shall you walk in the garden with Pancha
Go little rogue—sit—attend to the stranger
Adios Senor

PACHITA (briskly)

So [illegible] on telling that yarn about mother
[illegible] tells it to every stranger
[illegible] say the old man's my father
What's your opinion?

The Fastest Horse in the World

[From Stockton (Cal) Independent]

[illegible] but little doubt that the Sac[illegible] now owned by ex Governor [illegible] fastest trotting horse in the [illegible] less than a year ago Sidney Eldred [illegible] a public house on K street, in Sac[illegible] observed the movements of a horse [illegible] occasionally driven to the city by [illegible] who kept a hog and chicken ranch [illegible] out of town Eldred concluded [illegible] horse could go and at once determin[illegible] for him He finally purchased [illegible] and the former owner congratu[illegible] on having realized a good price [illegible] horse a short time and sold [illegible] for $3 500 and another horse [illegible] five hundred dollars The [illegible] then placed in the hands of Yankee [illegible] trainer and in a few weeks Stan[illegible] $10 000 for him but did not [illegible] ago well posted Sacramento [illegible] time convinced that this trotter [illegible] able to beat Dexter's time, [illegible] fastest on record—a mile in [illegible] mile in 1 06½ Dexter driven [illegible] owner, to harness, on Jerome [illegible] made the best time known [illegible] Soon after he had done so, [illegible] $100,000 for any other horse [illegible] would equal the feat under precisely [illegible] distances In reply to certain [illegible] Bonner said the competitive [illegible] might be blind in one eye, or both, [illegible] sprung in the knees spa[illegible] or four with ring bones, [illegible] without number or limit If [illegible] to Dexter he desired [illegible] of symmetry, gait, or [illegible] gladly pay the above [illegible] The horse photograph [illegible] not yet carried off the [illegible] wins them it will be [illegible] speed [illegible] regardless of exterior beauty [illegible] The Stanford horse, like [illegible] He is now about eight [illegible] believed to have been sired [illegible] pacing horse formerly [illegible] team from Sacramento [illegible] owned by J E Miller, of [illegible] of his progeny have al[illegible] themselves on the Califor[illegible] the number, F P Low, now [illegible] and Gilbert's Mare St [illegible] was born [illegible] death in Miller's stable, [illegible] Fourth and J streets Sacramento, five or [illegible] The Sacramento Reporter, of [illegible] the following statement, the [illegible] has elicited the above pre[illegible]

[illegible] chances are that the celebrated horse [illegible] have to take a back seat before [illegible] yesterday morning at the Park, the [illegible] "Stanford horse" was driven [illegible] track, in a sulky, by "Yank" Smith who has the animal in his charge [illegible] mile was trotted at moderate [illegible] but on the last half mile Smith let him [illegible] score in 1 07 Keep[illegible] slower trot till the last half [illegible] the wonderful horse was [illegible] his speed and made the last [illegible] 07¼ [illegible] as noted by [illegible] and experienced parties, [illegible] may be mentioned Charley [illegible] and George Gilbert Leland Stanford, [illegible] owner of the horse was also on the [illegible] is no doubt about this time [illegible] made and it is the fastest on re[illegible] well known sporting gentleman, [illegible] offered to wager $1,000 that [illegible] horse for a week and drive [illegible] The animal has a some[illegible] story, and like many bipeds [illegible] elevation from hard work [illegible] obscurity to [illegible] and ease has been rapid [illegible] Not many months ago he [illegible] butcher cart, and was sold for [illegible] $150 Stanford paid $3,900 [illegible] could probably get $30 000 now [illegible] bargain The pedigree of the horse is [illegible] but those who have the best reason [illegible] now state that he is a St Clair The [illegible] the Park nearly every morning for [illegible] and all who desire to see him can [illegible] curiosity gratified by getting out [illegible]

[illegible] OF THE MONKEY TOWARD SNAKES [illegible] a curious account of the in[illegible] dread which his monkeys exhibited [illegible] but their curiosity was so [illegible] they could not desist from occa[illegible] their horror in a most hu[illegible] by lifting up the lid of the box [illegible] snakes were kept I was so [illegible] at his account that I took a [illegible] up snake into the monkey [illegible] Zoological Gardens and the ex[illegible] caused was one of the most cu[illegible] which I ever beheld Three [illegible] cercopithecus were alarmed the [illegible] dashed about their cages and ut[illegible] cries of danger, which were [illegible] the other monkeys A few [illegible] and one old Anubis baboon [illegible] notice of the snake I then placed [illegible] specimen on the ground in one of [illegible] larger compartments After a time all [illegible] collected round it in a large cir[illegible] and staring intently, presented a [illegible] ludicrous appearance They became [illegible] nervous so that when a wooden [illegible] with which they were familiar as a play[illegible] was accidentally moved in the straw, [illegible] which it was partly hidden, they all in[illegible] stantly started away These monkeys be[illegible] haved very differently when a dead fish, a mouse, and some other new objects were placed in their cages for though at first frightened they soon approached handled [illegible] examined them I then placed a live [illegible] in a paper bag, with the mouth loosely closed in one of the larger compartments One of the monkeys immediately approached [illegible] cautiously opened the bag a little peeped in and instantly dashed away. Then I witnessed what Brehm has described, for monkey after monkey, with head raised high and turned on one side, could not resist taking momentary peeps into the upright bag, at the dreadful object lying quiet at the bottom It would almost appear as if monkeys had some notion of zoological affinities for those kept by Brehm exhibited a strange, though mistaken, instinctive dread of innocent lizards and frogs An orang, also has been known to be much alarmed at the first sight of a turtle —The Descent of Man, by C Darwin

PERSONAL NOTES.

Madame Gerolt, wife of the Prussian Minister has resided, it is said, for 30 years in Washington and strange to say, thinks it one of the most delightful of cities

Nettie Power Houston the youngest daughter of Gen Sam Houston, has become a copious contributor to the Southern press, with the intention of making writing her profession

The late Alexander Dumas is reputed to be the author, or rather to have assumed the authorship of not less than 900 or 1,000 sketches, plays histories, biographies, and novels, many of which however he did little more than read in the most hurried manner During the height of his popularity he earned by his own and vicarious literary labor $150,000 to $175 000 a year

It was rashly suggested in one of our magazines some time ago that it would be a delightful thing to have Tennyson come over here and read his own poetry—but poets are not always their own best interpreters Tennyson's voice is exceedingly gruff, and his theory of reading poetry is to deliver it with very great slowness and emphasis syllable by syllable, as if scanning so that one's imagination inevitably outstrips the tardy reader, and the process becomes very annoying

Capt Samuel Barker who always claimed to be the man that fired the first gun from Charleston at the Stars and Stripes floating over Sumter is reported to have died recently in Tampico Mexico He had constantly asserted that the venerable Ruffin, who destroyed himself rather than live under the restored Union, fired the second instead of the first gun at his country's flag As Barker bore the reputation of an intemperate and unprincipled adventurer, his claim to the distinguished dishonor is entitled to much consideration

The Force of Mind

[From France and Prussia in the Contemporary Review]

Yet, if the war of France and Prussia has demonstrated anything, it has demonstrated that no force on earth is master of things but mind The pointing of a gun tells more than its weight of metal A thinking General is worth twenty fighting Generals Already there has arisen a legend of Moltke—descendant of Woden—armed with cap of darkness, shoes of swiftness, and irresistible hammer—type of the heroic strength and prowess of intellect Matter has been busy heaving itself up hoping to conquer by its stupid bulk, but it has only served to form a point of ascent, or airy platform, for mind to leap from and soar In a higher sense however, is mind supreme than in its application to machinery of discipline, transport, commissariat, burning of villages, organization of robbery shooting down of non combatants, and such like All this mind in relation to machinery, for good or for bad, is subordinate to mind in relation to ideas History is nothing but logic Not an invading army, but an unsound syllogism, will bring a nation to nothingness The impassive, and sometimes it is to be feared, ironical, Time spirit sits with face of a sphinx, proposing logical riddles to the nations, supplying premises, and waiting to see who will have courage to draw legitimate conclusions suggesting sophisms to try the children of men giving to those who can answer her questions the most splendid rewards, and ever herself working out with the sureness of the stars the problems of her superb dialectic If we can lay hold of the logic of history, the events of our own time ought to be as intelligible as those of the past, with which they are inseparably linked and even something of the future ought to be deducible when having ascertained by observation a major premise, we supply, by prudent conjecture or prophetic gift, a minor

A TRICK ON THE AURACANIAN INDIANS —It is not a little curious, says the Independent of Chile, to know how the telegraph wires and posts have been preserved from injury by the Indians otherwise the communication of the frontier forts with one another could not have been kept up The following strategem was hit upon and related by a traveler recently from the frontiers, who was asked how this was He said when the posts were erected there was some forty or fifty Indian prisoners in the camp of the army General Pinto, fearing that they might destroy this important work of civilization, called them together and brought in an electric battery

"Do you see this wire which is placed here?"

"Yes, General"

"Well, then, I have caused it to be placed there, so that you should not pass to the other side or touch it, because if you do, your hands will adhere to the wire"

The Indians smiled with an incredulous look The General called them one by one and made them lay hold of the wires and battery and then set it going.

"Let go the wires, I tell you."

"I cannot, sir, my hands are benumbed"

On cutting off the current of course they dropped the wires Each Indian was made to experiment for himself Before letting them go the General recommended them to keep the secret and not tell it to their countrymen

Of course they did quite the contrary, and told every Indian what they had seen and what had happened to them Since then not a wire has been damaged, because they now all believe that if they touch the wires they would be caught and held prisoners until the troops came up

A Bennington paper reports that a prisoner in the county jail, fell out while leaning against the wall, and that the institution is to be papered for better security

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD

COMPANY.

SALEM OREGON October 2 1870

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad excepting lands to which a pre emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division located line from East Portland to Jefferson at 1 P M February 16 1870 The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg May 1870 and from the last named point to the California line 1870

Second—Persons who have valid pre emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks and upon very favorable terms if they so desire by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U S Land Office blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a release from the Government The party can leave the land if necessary He can sell the land or mortgage it, he is saved the payment of lawyers or agents fees and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to prove up his claim he can get his title perfect in less time and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect, I R MOORES
